

Minerva Consulting Group

"Today's changed and changing workplace demands you be in the best hands for OHS from the word go."

Minerva Consulting Group has been providing safety services for over 20 years. (Minerva was the Roman name of Greek goddess Athena. She was considered to be the virgin goddess of wisdom and education.) Based in Sydney NSW, we offer a broad range of OHS services to clients throughout Australia and New Zealand. Our client base is extensive and covers many of Australia's Blue Chip companies.

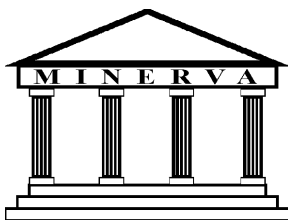

Our principal, Scott Cornwell, has worked for many years in the OHS field. He was mentored by Mitch Mitchell a well known authority in safety who owned Mitch Mitchell & Associates, Scriptographic Publications and Safety Concepts.

Scott has guided the company to its preferred OHS Consultant status with some of Australia's leading corporations, including Electrolux Home Products and Apple Pty Ltd. We are also the exclusive Self Insurance Auditors for a large number of NSW local councils, including Blacktown City Council and Campbelltown City Council. Many of our clients were introduced to Minerva through other satisfied clients and many retain us as their OHS Consultants of choice.

At Minerva Consulting Group we specialise in helping other organisations prevent accidental loss arising from inadequate workplace health and safety management systems. We do this by offering exceptional OHS auditing, training and consultancy services.

Minerva Consulting Group recognises that your organisation is affected by rigorous occupational health and safety regulations that impose duties, obligations and penalties on your organisation and its directors, managers and employees. Our wide range of services and training programmes can help you and your staff comply with health and safety legislation. We are well versed in the OHS legislation of all Australian states.

We employ experienced professionals who are qualified in health, scientific, engineering, and educational disciplines. Our consultants understand the current business environment and the challenges posed by stringent human resources, OHS&E, and workers' compensation legislation.

Quality in management depends upon getting things done by, through and with others without accident.
